

PRESENTATION REMOTES

Keyspan by Tripp Lite's Presentation Remotes Free You from Your Keyboard During Presentations

In a room of any size, you can now have complete control of your presentation, your material and your audience. You're free to interact with the audience without being stuck at a computer or waiting for an assistant to advance your slides. Walk among students and answer questions without losing your place in the presentation. Enjoy spontaneous discussions that would be problematic if you were using a timer. Control the presentation's audio and visual effects with the touch of the buttons in your hand.
