Preventive Maintenance for Portable Air Conditioning Units 12-24K BTU

Preventive Maintenance for Portable Air Conditioning Units, 12-24K BTU, 7x24 Factory Technician

FEATURES & BENEFITS

Preventive maintenance is important because it helps your cooling unit last longer and function more efficiently. It saves you money and ensures that your critical IT equipment is operating at its peak potential.

- Extended lifespan

A yearly tune-up can help your cooling system last up to 10 years, compared with 5 to 7 years without maintenance.

- Cost savings

Regular maintenance can help you save up to 15% on your monthly energy bills. Neglecting maintenance harms performance, reduces energy efficiency and increases the risk of unforeseen repair costs.

- Improved system cooling

Regular maintenance promotes uniform air distribution and helps your equipment receive the desired airflow and temperature consistency, resulting in optimal performance.
