4-Port VGA KVM Switch with Built-In VGA, USB and 3.5 mm Audio Cables, TAA

MODEL NUMBER: B032-VUA4

Lets you access and control up to 4 computers using one VGA monitor and one USB keyboard and mouse.

Features

Connects 4 Computers to a VGA Monitor and a Single Keyboard/Mouse
This single-monitor KVM switch lets you connect as many as four computers, which you can access and control by toggling between them. All connected computers share one VGA monitor and one USB keyboard/mouse, which saves space on your desk or workspace. Built-in four-foot (1.2-meter) VGA, USB and audio cables save you the expense and effort of buying separate cable kits for each computer. The B032-VUA4 supports video resolutions up to 2048 x 1536 (DDC2B) on a VGA monitor (P502-006-SM VGA coaxial cable sold separately).

Switching Between Computers Is Fast and Easy
Use hotkey commands or a connected mouse for quick and easy switching among computers. You can also use the Auto Scan feature to scan all connected computers automatically in five-second intervals. Port LEDs indicate which computer is currently selected. Computers may be added, removed or replaced without disconnecting or rebooting other connected computers.

Optional USB Hub Lets You Share Peripherals between Computers
Connecting an optional USB hub (sold separately) to the USB console mouse port lets you share USB peripherals, such as printers, hard drives, scanners and webcams, between all connected computers. This lets you avoid the expense and clutter of separate USB hubs.

Simple Plug-and-Play Installation and Operation
The heavy-duty metal housing can be placed on a desktop or other level surface that safely supports the weight of the KVM switch and attached cables. It requires no extra software, external power or other complicated setup procedures. It works with any computer with available VGA and USB ports (the UR024-001 USB cable is an optional accessory). It also works with gaming keyboards and wireless keyboards/mice.
